WASHINGTON NOTES.

WASHINGTON, September 5.

The principle issue before the people of this country continues still to be, Theodore Roosevelt, and I can do no better work for the people and, incidentally, the Democratic party, than to continue to give a history of the things Theodore Roosevelt has said that thoroughly unfit him for the Presidency of this nation.

I am quoting from Mr. Roosevelt's books and not from hearsay testimony.

Last winter, in the House of Representatives, the distinguished gentleman from Massachusetts [Mr. Gillett], in a speech complained that lawlessness and lynchings in the South stimulated lawlessness and lynchings in the North. In passing, he will permit me to express regret that the good people of Massachusetts are so quick to imitate Southern vices and so slow to emulate Southern virtues. Now, I want to ask him if it is not a fact that the three books which Roosevelt wrote, "Ranch Life and the Hunting Trail," "Oliver Cromwell," and "The Winning of the West," are not in almost every private and public library and in every school library throughout the North?

I trust it will not shock the law-loving and law-abiding people of our country too greatly when I tell them that Theodore Roosevelt in these books deliberately justifies and advocates lynch law for the stealing of a $10 rat-tailed Texas pony. I wish to suggest to my friend from Massachusetts that these books of this distinguished author, so widely read in the North, teaching the right to lynch human beings for stealing horses, might possibly have some influence in stimulating to lawlessness the great and good people of the North. Let me quote from "Ranch Life and Hunting Trail," pages 14 and 93:

"During the last two or three years the stockmen have united to put down all these dangerous characters, often by the most summary exercise of lynch law. * * Bands of horse and cattle thieves have been regularly hunted down and destroyed in pitched fights by parties of armed cowboys, and as a consequence most of our Territory is perfectly law-abiding. * * A little over two years ago one committee of vigilantes in eastern Montana shot or hung nearly sixty—not, however, with the best judgment in all cases.

"It is the fashion to laugh at the severity with which horse stealing is punished on the border, but the reasons are evident. Horses are the most valuable property of the frontiersmen, whether cowboy, hunter or settler; * * They are always marketable and are very easily stolen. Horse stealing is a most tempting business, etc."

Now let me quote from the work on Oliver Cromwell, at page 52:

"In many crisis it may be necessary to overturn constitutions, to disregard statutes, just as it may be necessary to establish a vigilance committee or take refuge in lynch laws."

In "Winning of the West" we find the following:

"The good men in such a case band themselves together as regulators and put down with ruthless severity, by the exercise of lynch law, shooting and hanging the worst offhand."

"In many cases of lynch law which have come to my knowledge the effect has been healthy for the community, but sometimes great injustice is done. Generally the vigilantes, by a series of summary executions, do really good work, but I have rarely known them to fail, among the men whom they kill for good reasons, to also kill one or two either by mistake or to gratify private malice."

I do not defend, nor do the people in the South defend, lynching for any crime. I condemn, and they in the South condemn, lynching for any crime except the unspeakable crime against womanhood. Law-abiding people should not advocate or encourage lynching for even this. The hand of civilization and Christianity is uplifted against it, and good people the wide world over should uphold that hand. But lynch law, to avenge the brutal outrage upon innocent, helpless womanhood, and to protect it, is a statute written, old and unrepented, in the heart of poor, weak human nature, and at unfortunate times is invoked in every section and in every land. Let us who believe in the absolute sovereignty of the law over all crimes, from the lowest to the highest, not despair when, in sparsely settled communities, with no ready and sufficient police force, excited men turn to lynch law. There are times when the mute lips of the outraged and murdered victim appeal too loudly for even the strongest of us to resist. We can only hope that through the Christian manhood of our country, in the mercy and wisdom of God, a way may be found for the final repeal of this terrible and dangerous law.

But I challenge you to point out another man in official life throughout the civilized world that has ever publicly defended or justified lynch law for theft of any kind under any circumstances.

I put it to your consciences. Do you not believe that we have a right to protest against any Republican in this nation condemning any section or any man in this country for lynching a brute, white or black, who commits the unspeakable crime, until you have burned these lynch-law-teaching books or until you have repudiated at the polls their author, Theodore Roosevelt? You may search the Library of Congress, with its millions of volumes, and I venture the assertion that, barring the books of the President, upon no page can you find where a man claiming to be civilized and Christianized has ever advocated publicly lynch law for theft.

Everything is looking brighter, from the view-point of the national capital, for Democratic success.

The troubles in New York State have been satisfactorily settled and every man there who ever called himself a Democrat has his coat off and is working for Democratic success.

West Virginia is better organized than it has been in twelve years. Maryland is solid for Democracy. The Republicans of New England are badly scared, and the chances are excellent for the Democrats to carry Rhode Island and Connecticut and add several Congressmen to Democracy's string in Massachusetts. We will cut down the Republican majorities in Vermont and Maine in the September elections in those two States, which will have a great moral effect.

There are splendid reports from Indiana and Wisconsin, Colorado, Nevada, Idaho, Montana, Washington and California. There never was such a hopeful feeling manifested by leading Democrats who visit the national capital since the campaign of 1892.

CHARLES A. EDWARDS.

In an attractively illustrated article on "The Window Garden as a Home Beautifier," in the September "Twentieth Century Home," Florence R. Travers offers some valuable suggestions on home floral decoration. In many European cities the municipal art movement is carried on as an integral part of the government, but in America it is very much in its infancy as yet. Still, there is a notable trend in the right direction here, and the suggestions offered by Miss Travers cannot but be of great value.

STATE COLLEGE OF KENTUCKY, Lexington, - - Kentucky.

The Agricultural and Mechanical (State College) of Kentucky offers the following courses of study, viz: Agricultural, horticultural, chemical, biological, mathematical, physical, normal school, classical, mechanical engineering, electrical engineering, civil engineering, mining engineering, each of which extends over four years and leads to a degree. Post graduate studies are also provided, leading to a master's degree. Each course of study is organized under a separate faculty. The general faculty number nearly fifty professors and instructors.

County appointees receive tuition, room rent in dormitories, fuel and light, and if they remain ten months, traveling expenses.

The laboratories and museums are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern.

The Legislature appropriated $60,000 for a college home for young women, and $30,000 for drill hall and gymnasium for men. Both buildings are completed and in use. Military tactics and science are fully provided for as required by Congress.

Graduates from the several courses of study readily find excellent positions and liberal remuneration. The demand is largely in excess of the ability of the college to supply. Last year the matriculation was 750.

Specialists with the necessary number of assistants have charge of each department of natural science. Summer schools are provided for pedagogy, engineering and instruction in science.

The State College of Kentucky, though bearing hitherto the title of "college," is the only institution in the Commonwealth doing in any proper sense university work.

The completion of the college home for young women provides facilities for good board and lodging. It is equipped with all modern conveniences, including bath rooms and room for physical culture. It is heated by steam and lighted by electricity.

An opportunity is thus afforded to them of a thorough education in classics, modern languages, literature, science, mathematics, logic, metaphysics, history and modern languages. No other institution in the State offers advantages for educational economy. No other institution in the State offers advantages for educational economy.

For women at all comparable to those offered by the State College of Kentucky. For catalogues, method of obtaining appointments, information regarding courses of study, and terms of admission, apply to

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT.

ALTON BROOKS PARKER,

OF NEW YORK.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

HENRY C. DAVIS,

OF WEST VIRGINIA.

FOR CONGRESS, 10th DISTRICT.

HON. FRANK A. HOPKINS,

OF FLOYD COUNTY.

HON. UREY WOODSON, Kentucky Committeeman on the Democratic National Committee, has our thanks for an invitation to a meeting of the Democratic editors of the United States to be held at Esopus, the home of Judge Parker. That it will be an intellectual feast is beyond cavil, as such celebrities as Hon. Henry Watterson will attend in person and give vent to their ideas of the coming campaign. "A feast of reason, and a flow of soul," may well be written in advance, as the Democratic editors of the country are beyond doubt a power undisputed. And beside the orators the press will thus put forth will be such champions as Champ Clark, of Missouri, and William Jennings Bryan, the oratorical powers of whom will attract thousands. Indeed, were it not for press of business and other circumstances over which we have no control, we should like to be present and sit for the drippings of the sanctuary.

Catarrah

Please Consider.

I am a candidate for State Senator to represent the 34th District, and submit my claim to the consideration of the Democratic party in mass convention at the respective county seats on Wednesday, November 30th, 1904. Your support is respectfully solicited and will be gratefully appreciated. But if for any cause you cannot support me personally, you can, as a good Democrat, support my paper, THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD, which for 20 years has been a faithful exponent of Democratic doctrine, and for that little I will be duly thankful. Yours, for Democratic success, SPENCER COOPER.

The annual meeting of the Greenville Missionary Baptist Association will convene tomorrow at Bear Creek, in Breathitt county, and continues until Sunday. A large attendance is predicted.

In this issue you will see the announcement of Spencer Cooper, for State Senator. Mr. Cooper is a life-long Democrat, and the veteran editor of the HAZEL GREEN HERALD, which has always fought the battles of Democracy. Mr. Cooper's claim is a just one, he is qualified, and knows the wants and needs of the mountain people, and the man that beats Bro. Cooper will know he has been in a race.—Morgan County News.

Another Shooting in Morgan.

In attempting to arrest Monroe Nickell on Wednesday afternoon, about three miles from town, Crockett Pack and he got into a difficulty, and Pack claims that he summoned "Doc" Whitaker to assist in the arrest. Whitaker got between the belligerents in trying to separate them, and took a pistol from Nickell. Subsequently Pack got out a warrant for the arrest of Whitaker and placed in the hands of Nelson Bishop to serve. Bishop found young Whitaker at the home of Lee Caskey, where several men belonging to the Cumberland Pipe Line Co. were boarding. He called to Whitaker to surrender, and told him to climb down the porch post, that he would not take chances on his going through the house, and it is said that when Whitaker started down the post Bishop fired upon him, the ball hitting him in the side and ranging upward to the shoulder blade. Dr. Bakes was summoned to see the wounded man and pronounced the wound a fatal one. Reports are so conflicting that it almost impossible to get a straight tale. But it seems pretty certain that Whitaker is dangerously wounded.

New Road is Opened.

The C. and O. extension from White House to Paintsville, Johnson county, was completed last week, and the first train was run. This road opens a rich territory of timber and coal, and will be further extended into the mountains. The extension of the road is of great value to the people of the mountains.

The Callahan and French Case.

Sheriff Ed. Callahan, of Crockettville, Breathitt county, together with Judge James Hargis, of Jackson, went to Mt. Sterling Tuesday to arrange for the trial of Callahan and B. F. French, of Winchester, on the charge of subordination and perjury in connection with the murder trial at Cynthiana of Curt Jett. Callahan says that he is innocent of the charge and all that he asked for was a fair trial. Judge Lewis Apperson, of Mt. Sterling, will conduct the defense.

The trial is set for today, and Callahan said he would be ready.

PRESTO.

One of the bloodiest battles known in history has been raging in Manchuria between the Russian and Japanese forces, the number of killed and wounded being estimated at between 50,000 to 60,000. The Japanese captured Liao Yang and the Russians retreated northward, nothing definite being heard from the head Russian general. Late news from the front indicates that the Japanese will attack Port Arthur again with a large force. The Czar of Russia has become so uneasy at the state of affairs in the far east that he has concluded to go to the front, and is probably on his way there.

Mr. Derthick conducted a very successful revival meeting at the Christian Church here a little over a year ago, and by his affable and gentlemanly manners made a host of friends and acquaintances who will all join in welcoming him and his family among us.

On Monday evening last a party of young ladies and gentlemen repaired to the residence of Prof. C. P. Coley and wife, on The Heights, and surprised the new comers among us with a pound party. And right well that they "pounded" them was shown by the many nice presents which were showered upon them. After a social chat and well wishes the visitors departed for their homes, feeling most amply repaid for an evening most enjoyably spent.

Consumption

The only kind of consumption to fear is "neglected consumption."

People are learning that consumption is a curable disease. It is neglected consumption that is so often incurable.

At the faintest suspicion of consumption get a bottle of Scott's Emulsion and begin regular doses.

The use of Scott's Emulsion at once, has, in thousands of cases, turned the balance in favor of health.

Neglected consumption does not exist where Scott's Emulsion is.

Prompt use of Scott's Emulsion checks the disease while it can be checked.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made by F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Testimonials free.

Try for Health

222 South Peoria St.,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 7, 1902.

Eight months ago I was so ill that I was compelled to lie or sit down nearly all the time. My stomach was so weak and upset that I could keep nothing on it and I vomited frequently. I could not urinate without great pain and I coughed so much that my throat and lungs were raw and sore. The doctors pronounced it Bright's disease and others said it was consumption. It mattered little to me what they called it and I had no desire to live. A sister visited me from St. Louis and asked me if I had ever tried Wine of Cardui. I told her I had not and she bought a bottle. I believe that it saved my life. I believe many women could save much suffering if they but knew of its value.

Gorgia Quaker

Don't you want freedom from pain? Take Wine of Cardui and make one supreme effort to be well. You do not need to be a weak, helpless sufferer. You can have a woman's health and do a woman's work in life. Why not secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today?

What is Life?

In the last analysis nobody knows, but we do know that it is under strict law. Abuse that law even slightly, pain results. Irregular living means derangement of the organs, resulting in Constipation, Headache or Liver trouble. Dr. King's New Life Pills quickly re-adjusts this. It's gentle, yet thorough. Only 25c., at all druggists.

First-rate whiskey is sold at $5.00 to $6.00 per gallon, but it's not any better than "Casper's 11 Year Old." It must please or we will buy it back. We have a capital of $50,000, and the People's National Bank and the Piedmont Savings Bank of this city will tell you our word is good. To introduce this old, honest whiskey, we offer four Full Quarts of "Casper's 11 Year Old"—two sample bottles, one 15, one 18 year old—a cork screw and a drinking glass—all for $2.95.
